Observations

1. 14 claimants have settled via the upfront offer option, without previously submitting a non-pecuniary claim.
2. 1 further non-pecuniary claim has been submitted during the reporting period, bringing the total claims received to 73 (this number includes claims submitted but which subsequently accepted the upfront offer).
3. 4 claims previously in receipt of non-pecuniary offers have subsequently accepted the £600k upfront offer.
4. Of the 10 submitted non-pecuniary claims which still require resolution:
 - i. 1 is a submission at the start of June 2024, and is currently under Post Office assessment, prior to offer

- ii. 9 have received offers, of which:
 - o 1 has further requested and received an upfront offer deed for consideration
 - o 3 are subject to counteroffers on the basis of further evidence being made available. Revised offers have been made in 2 of the cases with the third under Post Office assessment to finalise an offer on the personal injury head of loss (the other non-pecuniary heads of loss having previously been settled)
 - o 2 have accepted Post Office's offers on all heads of loss except personal injury (pending further medical reports) but have also received interim payments of the full value of Post Office's personal injury offers
 - o 3 offers remain formally contested (although interim payments have been made to the full value of the offers as issued). While agreement in principle has been received, discussions with the legal representative(s) continue to agree a timetable for a further Early Neutral Evaluation (ENE) with Lord Dyson.
