Observations

1. From 3 June 2025, redress claims under the Post Office's Overturned Convictions arrangements are processed by the Department for Business and Trade's Horizon Conviction Redress Scheme (HCRS).
2. 27 claimants have settled via the upfront offer option, without previously submitting a non-pecuniary claim.
3. No further non-pecuniary claims were submitted during the reporting period. Accordingly, the final claims received remains at 75 (this number includes claims submitted but which subsequently accepted the upfront offer).
4. Of the 10 submitted non-pecuniary claims which still require resolution, all 10 have received offers from Post Office, of which:
 - i. 2 are pending a response from claimant legal representatives.
 - ii. 1 was previously a contested offer, although further information has been provided and initial assessment conducted by POL before the claim transferred to HCRS.
 - iii. 3 are subject to counteroffers on the basis of further evidence being made available. Revised offers have been made in 1 of the cases with 2 under POL assessment to finalise an offer on the Personal Injury Head of Loss (the other non-pecuniary Heads of Loss having previously been settled).
 - iv. 2 have accepted POL's offers on all Heads of Loss except Personal injury (pending further medical reports) but have also received interim payments relating to POL's personal injury offers.
 - v. 2 offers remain formally contested (although interim payments have been made to the full value of the offers as issued). It is understood that the claims will still require independent third-party intervention in order to agree a final position, although the transfer of claims to the HCRS means that DBT will be required to manage that process.
